Spooky Tales for Your Halloween Fun

Victorian Ghost Stories: An Oxford Anthology by Michael Cox. RC 35421

Thirty-five scary tales about interaction between the living and the dead, selected from the period when fiction about the supernatural flourished with the help of small magazines. Many stories are by well known authors, such as Henry James, Charles Dickens, Rudyard Kipling, Arthur Conan Doyle, and R.L. Stevenson. Several are set in haunted houses around the holidays.

Pet Sematary by Stephen King. RC 20202

Dr. Louis Creed, his wife Rachel, their children Ellie and Gage, and Winston Churchill, the family cat, move to Ludlow, Maine from Chicago. They settle in a spooky rambling house near an ancient Indian burial ground where children bury their pets. Beyond that is another cemetery with strange powers of resurrection. Strong language.

Scary Stories for the Kids Too!

A Newbery Halloween: A Dozen Scary Stories by Newbery Award winning authors by David Palmer. RC 39186

Since 1922 the American Library Association has awarded the John Newbery Award annually to the “most distinguished contribution” to children’s literature. This collection of scary stories— just right for Halloween— is by Newbery Award winning authors. Includes selections by Beverly Cleary, E.L. Konigsburg, and Virginia Hamilton. For grades 3-6 and older readers
